

About Ethiopia Reads & Global Care Unlimited:

A native of Ethiopia, Yohannes Gebregeorgis champions literacy for children through his work with Ethiopia Reads and Global Care Unlimited, two non-profit organizations committed to increasing educational opportunities in Ethiopia. Recently honored as a "CNN Hero," Yohannes will share his vision of elevating Ethiopian society by exposing young people to the joys, wonders, challenges and rewards of reading and quality education.

The founder of Global Care Unlimited, school teacher and human rights activist, Mark Hyman, will present his educational outreach model promoting youth leadership in global humanitarian service initiatives, enabling youth to become empowered and compassionate global citizens.

About Wosene Worke Kosrof:

Transcending time and place, and strength of line and color, are the unifying elements of the many media represented in the Spirits In Stone collections. These elements are especially apparent in the paintings of Wosene Worke Kosrof, recognized internationally as the first painter to transform Amharic characters into contemporary abstract fine art. His works pay tribute to the power of language as visual expression, and his narratives in form and color speak to global audiences.

"Wosene links African and American cultures, but in a different way, by blending written letters from the (3,000 year old) Amharic language of Ethiopia with Western-style gestural painting. The results are abstract, but richly coded, with fractured texts, personal symbols and a palette of jewel-like colors - reds, yellows and greens - associated with Ethiopian icon paintings."—New York Times, 2004
